Sheriff Regalado

This data analysis extends from January 1st through December 31st of 2016. I am pleased to report there were a total of 30 investigated events. In comparison to 2015 there were 25 reports. Also in 2016, there were 2 (down 9) substantiated allegations, 15 (up 7) unsubstantiated allegations, and 13 (up 7) unfounded allegations.

There appear to be no significant problem areas. Adaptations to the PREA system are ongoing. The inmate's names were redacted to protect the safety and security of the inmates, other inmates, and the security of the facility as a whole.

Corrective action was taken on an ongoing basis. The review teams provided valuable information on process system changes, training, and improvement of classification systems. The PREA system is progressing. In 2016 we strove to improve and increase inmate reporting. This appears successful with an increase of 5 reports in 2016 and increase of 11 in comparison to 2014.

The Prison Rape Elimination Act (PREA) was passed in 2003 with unanimous support from both parties in Congress.
